Section 1. CHILD AND VULNERABLE PEOPLE PROTECTION POLICY

1. INTRODUCTION

Policy Statement: A Commitment to Child and Vulnerable People Protection

The purpose of this Policy is to guide Hope in the Hills in developing a child and vulnerable people-protective culture. Hope in the Hills is committed to welcoming children and their parents or carers and providing a 'child-safe'¹ environment, culture and programs for children and other vulnerable people who attend the services and other programs. We are committed to demonstrating our care and respect for every child and vulnerable person by protecting them from abuse of any kind. We see such a commitment as flowing naturally from our vision and mission to operate according to biblical, Christian principles for living and for recognising the unique value and potential of every person, regardless of race, age, gender, ability or disability.

Our priority is to:

- provide safe physical, emotional and online environments.
- develop and implement clear expectations to guide the behaviour of volunteers towards children and volunteers towards vulnerable people, expressed in a Code of Conduct that provides advice for managing these relationships.
- develop and implement strategies for identifying, mitigating or eliminating risks to children's wellbeing and safety.
- provide clear and accessible pathways for acting on observations, allegations and disclosures, including reporting abuse.

We recognise the particular need for sensitivity for those from culturally or linguistically diverse backgrounds, including those with Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander heritage. We take into consideration the needs of children with disabilities and seek to include them and make them feel safe and welcome. All children, regardless of their gender, race, religious beliefs, age, disability, sexual orientation, family or social background, have equal rights to protection from abuse and discrimination. Our pastoral care and protection of all children expresses our love and commitment to their wellbeing, even if their statements and choices do not align with the beliefs and doctrines of this church community.

This Policy recognises both Federal and State legislation as well as regulations and guidelines and commits workers to responsibly and reasonably cooperating with Government departments, law enforcement and child protection agencies. The operational principles of ¹It is recognized that no organisation can guarantee the safety of children and other vulnerable people who are on site at a venue. The term 'child-safe' means that child safety is paramount to this organisation, that it has compliant policies and procedural documents and that risk identification and mitigation practices are embedded in the culture.

our Code of Conduct support and facilitate the protection of children and vulnerable people.

- a. The Chair of the Leadership Team. The Chair, through the Leadership Team has oversight of the policies, programs and activities of Hope in the Hills. The Leadership Team appoints the Child Protection Officer (Safe Church Coordinator).
- c. The Child Protection Officer/Safe Church Coordinator. The person appointed to this role undertakes to manage the church's child protection procedures, especially the process for making, receiving, secure storing and managing the initial responses to complaints or allegations of abuse or misconduct against or in the presence of a child. It was approved by the Leadership Team and adopted for use by Hope in the Hills on 4th July, 2023.

1.5 Policy Review

The Child and Vulnerable People Protection Policy and Procedures and Code of Conduct will be reviewed at least every two years, or as required with the declaration of relevant legislation to remain compliant with new legislation.

Any proposed changes or updates will be submitted to the Leadership Team of Hope in the Hills for approval at a properly convened meeting before being adopted and implemented. The date of approval and implementation will be noted in the minutes of the meeting and on the document that was approved.

2. Definitions (refer Appendix 6)

3. The New Victorian Child Safe Standards

Standard 1. Culturally Safe Environments

A culturally safe place for Aboriginal children. The practices and sensitivities that relate to Standard 5 apply here, even if there are no persons identifying as Aboriginal in the church. However, the spirit of this Standard is to take a stand against racism. Hope in the Hills does not tolerate or promote racism.

Standard 2. Child safety and wellbeing is embedded in leadership, governance and culture

Child safety and wellbeing is embedded in the Hope in the Hills culture at every level, from the Leadership Team, via the Chairman. The Code of Conduct is read and signed by all staff and volunteers engaged in Children's ministry annually. Our statement of commitment to child safety and our policies are on the church website. Our risk management strategies and procedures are comprehensive and well-known.

Standard 3. Child and Student Empowerment

Children and young people will be informed and empowered about their human rights: to be heard, consulted and included in decision-making processes that affect them and the strategies and procedures in place to keep them safe.

Standard 4. Family Engagement

The church community will be informed and involved in developing and implementing the practices and procedures that will protect our children and their wellbeing.

Standard 5. Diversity and Equity

Equity is upheld and diverse needs are respected in policy and practice. The Church recognises some children are vulnerable because of their cultural and linguistic diversity, physical or intellectual disability, sexual identity or gender dysphoria, and will ensure they are not discriminated against or disadvantaged by the structures, policies and practices of the Church.

Standard 6. Suitable staff and volunteers

People employed or approved to work with children and young people are suitable and supported to reflect child safety and wellbeing values in practice. This will be evidenced by Working With Children Checks, and will be the focus of recruitment, screening and interviewing processes and by our regular training and induction for new children's workers.

Standard 7. Complaints Management Processes

Processes for making, managing and responding to complaints, including investigating complaints and child abuse concerns are visible, accessible and child focussed. The Church has a Complaints Management process that is outlined in Section 3 and is illustrated with simple graphic flow charts. Complaint Report Forms are available from the Child Protection Officer/Safe Church Coordinator.

Standard 8. Child Safety knowledge, skills and awareness

Regular staff training will equip all staff members with the knowledge, skills and awareness required to keep children safe. Members of the children and youth teams will complete training and provide certification of completion. All members will read and sign off on key policies, manuals and the Code of Conduct annually.

Standard 9. Child safety in physical and on-line environments

Physical and on-line environments promote safety and wellbeing, minimising the opportunity for children or young people to be harmed. Strategies for risk management and mitigation of physical and on-line risk are contained in relevant policies.

Standard 10. Review of Child Safety practices

The Church is committed to regular review and improvement of child safety and its implementation with the Church community.

Standard 11. Implementing Child Safe practices

This policy and the related documents show how the Church works to exercise its duty of care to all minors, and to provide evidence that these child-safe practices and procedures are well-known and complied with.

Details on how these Standards are incorporated into the Policy and Procedures are outlined below.

4. Child Protection Policy

Culturally Safe Environments – A culturally safe place for Aboriginal children (CSS1)

- Hope in the Hills recognises the importance of this Child Safety Standard regardless of whether there are children within our community who identify as Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander. We desire to see reconciliation in Australia and are committed to being a part of this.
- Hope in the Hills is committed to ongoing learning surrounding creating culturally safe environments for Aboriginal Children, and will use information from the Commission for Children and Young People to develop this safe environment.
ccyp.vic.gov.au/child-safe-standards/the-11-child-safe-standards/standard-1/

Child Safety and Wellbeing are embedded in Church governance, leadership and culture (CSS 2)

Hope in the Hills will:

- Ensure the Church website has a clear statement that child abuse of any kind or harmful discrimination on the basis of identified attributes will not be tolerated. This statement is also a part of recruitment documentation and other Church publications.
- Through the Hope in the Hills Leadership Team, assign the responsibility for child safety education and practices to the Safe Church Coordinator. This responsibility will be practically shared by members of the Leadership Team and the Child Protection Officer/Safe Church Coordinator, as well as with other approved members as needed. They will ensure that all staff and volunteers complete mandatory reading and training in Child Protection, Reporting, Risk Management and Duty of Care, as well as other policies which support these principles.
- Undertake annual Risk Assessment audits and review of procedures, at Church Council level with support of relevant teams such as the Management Team.
- Ensure all members of staff, including casually employed staff and volunteers, read and sign the Code of Conduct.
- Build Risk Management strategies into the planning of all activities of the church that involve children, including excursions, camps and special events. Each event will have a nominated Person-in-Charge who will complete risk assessment documentation and present it to the Safe Church Coordinator for approval.

- Regularly (at least annually) provide all those involved with children with training and other forms of communication to ensure their understanding of obligations under the law regarding record keeping and information sharing.

Education and empowerment of children and young people (CSS 3 and CSS 7)

This element of the Child Protection Policy identifies the need for children to be educated and aware:

- of what is and what is not child abuse
- of ways and opportunities to provide feedback to Team Leaders about concerns or uncertainty relating to their safety in programs and activities.
- of how to make a complaint or allegation about abuse to themselves or another child.

To this end, Hope in the Hills will:

- Make this Policy and related documents available to all members of the Church community, as PDF documents on the website or by email.
- Inform and educate participants in an age appropriate way about the importance of self-protection, personal safety, strategies for finding support and help if concerned. Information posters are displayed in classrooms and other spaces.
- Encourage children to complete Feedback Forms at the end of units of study or activities where personal safety could be an issue.
- Ensure Codes of Conduct and other helpful materials are displayed in meeting rooms and other open spaces.
- Ensure important information about making a complaint about alleged abuse to the Child Protection Officer/Safe Church Coordinator, or other pastoral carers will be available for participants.

We will listen to and act on any concerns children or their parents/carers raise with us.

We are committed to protecting children from abuse. 'Abuse', as used in this policy, includes all the following types of abuse or neglect of children and young people:

- physical; sexual; emotional/psychological; racial/cultural or spiritual/religious, or neglect.

Family Engagement (CSS 4)

A central principle of Family Engagement is that it is a partnership between the parents and the Church – and, ideally, the church family. This involves all aspects of pastoral care of every participant. This Policy affirms the right of parents to:

- have opportunity to comment on arrangements, policies and procedures in place for the safety and well-being of their children
- be fully informed of activities and the risk assessment and mitigation that has been undertaken
- have access to all the policies that guide governance and leadership decisions around child safety. These documents will be available on the website.

Upholding Equity and Respecting Diversity (CSS 5)

Hope in the Hills is blessed to have families from a wide range of ethnic, cultural and language backgrounds. We value and uphold this diversity and are enriched by it. Our beliefs - relating to the value of every child, regardless of age, gender or sexual orientation, race or ethnicity, ability or disability – underpin our policies and practices in ministry, behaviour management and pastoral care.

We pay particular attention to the needs of children with physical or intellectual, or learning disabilities and for those with English as a second language or other cultural differences.

Children who identify as LGBTIQ+ or who have gender dysphoria or anxiety or confusion about any of these identifications are protected from discrimination and cared for with the same consideration as offered to all children.

Employment of Staff and Volunteers (CSS 6)

Recruitment, screening and selection practices (Ref: Volunteer Recruitment and Induction Procedures)

Hope in the Hills will be vigilant in the recruitment, selection and screening of all staff, contractors, activity leaders and volunteers to ensure they are safe and suitable to work with children and young people. It is important that every person who works with children under the auspices of this Church upholds and exemplifies our Christian beliefs and values, as expressed in this Policy and the Code of Conduct, especially in their interaction with children and other vulnerable people.

- 1) Our statements of commitment to child safety and our behavioural expectations of employees and volunteers are included in all advertisements and Position Descriptions.
- 2) We will conduct thorough screening to determine whether a prospective staff member, contractor, volunteer or leader may pose a risk to children. This will include making reasonable efforts to gather, verify and record the following information about a person whom it proposes to engage to perform child-connected work:
 - a) Child-related Employment Screening Clearance, that is, the Working With Children Check;
 - b) proof of personal identity and any professional or other qualifications;
 - c) the person's history of work involving children; and
 - d) two references that address the person's suitability for the job and working with children.
- 3) The type of evidence that an applicant is required to provide to the Church will vary depending on the type of position that they are applying for. However, the Church will not offer any applicant a position of responsibility until they provide the required evidence to the church.

Any person with a record of child abuse, either sexual or physical, will not be offered a role that involves working with children or being in contact with children in the conduct of their duties.

- 4) Short-listed applicants will be interviewed by a church representative (Team Leader) prior to appointment being made official. Interviews will include specific questions relating to allegations or complaints made against the applicant involving misconduct against a child. The applicant will sign the questionnaire verifying the truthfulness and accuracy of the statements.

Induction, Training and Annual Certification

- 1) The Church provides a system of induction, support and supervision so people feel valued, respected and fairly treated. This system will train and guide our staff and volunteers in their interactions with children and clear procedures for managing programs and activities.
- 2) All staff are provided with a copy of this Child and Vulnerable People Protection Policy and Procedures and the Code of Conduct that defines unacceptable conduct, boundaries and expectations for behaviour. Staff will sign a declaration stating they have read, understand and will comply with guidelines and follow procedures faithfully.
- 3) Any person new to the children's or youth work team will complete a Child-safe Induction process as part of their orientation to the specific ministry. (Normally this would be done by the Safe Church Coordinator (SCC) or the Team Leader)
- 4) Every 2 years (or when necessary) Safe Church sessions are run for all staff and volunteers, to ensure staff awareness of the risks to child safety and familiarity with the church's child-protective practices and reporting expectations, and where there have been changes to legislation or practice. In addition, all staff and volunteers complete training on keeping children and vulnerable people safe every 3 years.

Support and Supervision for Staff, Contractors and Volunteers:

Hope in the Hills provides support and supervision so that people feel valued, respected and fairly treated in the following ways:

- The church SCC checks WWCCs for all employed or volunteer staff annually. The WWCC authority regularly checks the suitability of staff for child connected work throughout the period that the registration / check is held.
- Staff are accountable to read and familiarise themselves with Church policies annually, as available on the website and as directed by the leadership.
- Those who work with children are aware that they are accountable to their peers, supervisors and ultimately, God for the safety and wellbeing of children in their care.

Awareness, vigilance and conferring with colleagues and supervisors are important strategies that are encouraged in protecting our children.

Risk Management (CSS 9)

The Chairman and the Leadership Team are responsible to delegate, and where necessary oversee the identification and management of risks in all environments, including physical and online.

At Hope in the Hills, risk assessment and management practices are embedded in our procedures for all services, programs or activities organised or authorised by the Church. Team Leaders are primarily responsible for identifying and managing risk, and work with the Safe Church Coordinator or Leadership Team to ensure programs and activities meet our safety standards.

Risk identification and mitigation is part of the planning process for all activities, especially community events that involve travel.

Risk Management also applies to Occupational Health and Safety generally and is covered in more detail in OH&S Policy. The Church Management Team will identify and manage risks within the meeting place and its environment.

This policy applies specifically to the minimising of risks of abuse of any kind to children and vulnerable people who are in our care and to ensuring their physical safety in the buildings or activities of the church. Hope in the Hills has zero tolerance of child abuse of any kind.

In situations where a person seeks to attend or join Hope in the Hills with a record of offending in child abuse of any kind, the leadership will put in place appropriate boundaries restricting access, to ensure the safety of children. This is not to say that such a person, with a proven reformed attitude, cannot be received into fellowship and benefit from the pastoral care of the church. Please refer to the Person of Concern process document using this – link. \(https://safechurchcrca.org.au/safe-church-documents/2-policy-documents\)

Hope in the Hills has a Safe Church Coordinator committed to identifying and managing risks within Hope in the Hills and its environment. If the Safe Church Coordinator, or any other person at Hope in the Hills identifies risks of child abuse occurring in Hope in the Hills or its environment, the Safe Church Coordinator will make a record of those risks in conjunction with the Leadership Team and specify the action(s) Hope in the Hills will take to reduce or remove the risks (i.e. risk controls).

As part of its risk management strategy and practices, the Safe Church Coordinator and Leadership Team will monitor and evaluate the effectiveness of the implementation of its risk controls.

All programs and activities must have a risk assessment completed before the program or activity is approved by the Safe Church Coordinator.

Record Keeping (CSS 7, 8 & 11)

Record keeping is an essential element of our Child Protection strategies.

- Team Members of children and other volunteers should keep personal notes of concerns, observations and disclosures regarding child abuse during the process of forming a reasonable belief.
- Notes should be saved as a personal record, but in form that can be accessible to church leadership and external authorities, if required. (Use Safety Management Online – SMO).
- When a ‘reasonable belief’ has been established, these notes can be recorded as a Child Abuse Complaint Report Form, available from the Safe Church Coordinator. The Safe Church Coordinator can assist and support filling this out, if required. If it is clear that the belief requires a mandatory report, the notes and the Report Form can be supplied to the Police and the Child Protection Unit of DFFH.
- If a report is made, then all notes and the Report Form will be saved to a case file, which will be kept by the Safe Church Coordinator with all subsequent correspondence and materials relating to investigations, determinations and further actions.

Notes and forms will record places, times, dates, names of people, observable behaviours or evidence of harm. Reports must be securely stored by the Safe Church Coordinator (using Safety Management Online – SMO). They provide valuable legal documents for any investigations and demonstrate the Church’s due diligence.

Privacy and Confidentiality (CSS 11)

The Church will collect, use, disclose and hold personal information of all people who fulfil a role within the church, in accordance with relevant privacy legislation. Such data will be securely stored and protected. Greater detail is provided in the Church’s Privacy Policy.

As much as is reasonably possible, an individual’s confidentiality is to be protected where allegations of child abuse are made.

Both those who are making reports and those about whom accusations are being made are entitled to confidentiality.

Where there is suspected abuse or misconduct, staff members, leaders, volunteers and contractors must not disclose or make use of the information in a manner that breaches confidentiality, other than to report and act in a way consistent with the Child Protection Policy, Code of Conduct and Procedure, and relevant statutory requirements.

Review (CSS 10)

All policies, procedures and practices for keeping children safe will be reviewed:

- every two years or,

- after every reportable incident or,
- following changes to the law.

The policy review will assess whether the Church's Child Protection policies or procedures require modification to better protect the children under its care. Hope in the Hills undertakes to seek views, comments and suggestions from children, parents, carers, staff and volunteers.

5. Reporting and Investigation of Suspected Child Abuse

Child abuse, especially sexual abuse of a child must be reported, where a reasonable belief is held that the child concerned has been abused, is being or is likely to be abused. A responsible adult can come to a reasonable belief through:

- i. Disclosure by a child about abuse to his or herself.
- ii. Disclosure by another child or an adult about abuse to a child, or
- iii. Direct observation of the abuse or evidence of it by the reporting adult.

The identity of the abuser and the circumstances of the event determine the procedure that should be followed by the leadership, employees or volunteers of Hope in the Hills.

A. Abuse of a Child Outside of the Church

If a child attending a Hope in the Hills program discloses abuse against them or to another child by a person outside of the Hope in the Hills community, then the procedures outlined in Reporting Procedure 1 (Appendix 1 and 1A) must be followed. All such disclosures should be written up on a Complaints Form (Appendix 2) and the Safe Church Coordinator/Team Leader informed.

However, it is the duty of the person to whom the disclosure was made to report the matter to either the Police or Child Protection Services (DFFH), following the Reporting Procedure 1. The church leadership may also decide to make a report.

In this case, no further investigation by the church is required. However, all reasonable steps to protect the child from harm should be taken.

B. Abuse of a Child by a Hope in the Hills employee, volunteer or member.

In the case of an allegation being made against a staff member, volunteer, leader or contractor at Hope in the Hills, the Safe Church Coordinator will follow the Reporting Procedure in Procedure 1 (Appendix 1 and 1B) to notify both the church leadership team and either the Police (if the matter is deemed severe or criminal) or the Child Protection Unit of DFFH.

In this case, then the additional requirements of the Reportable Conduct Scheme (See Appendix 4) must also be followed by the head of entity, summarised here:

Hope in the Hills will take all steps to ensure that the safety of the child is paramount.

Step 1. Ensure that the details of the allegation are recorded on a church Complaint Form (appendix 2), and the Senior Pastor or Leadership Team is informed. Report the matter to the Police or DFFH (Department of Families, Fairness & Housing).

Step 2. Guidance needs to be sought from the Police or Child Protection Agency about suspending an alleged abuser, balancing the need to prevent evidence removal with the safety of the child. When so advised the accused person should be withdrawn from active duty, which could entail standing down (with pay, where applicable), re-assignment to other duties that do not have direct contact with children, or to work under increased supervision while the matter is being investigated.

Step 3. Notify the CCYP (Commission for Children and Young People) in accordance with the Reportable Conduct Scheme guidelines, that is, within three (3) working days.

Step 4. The investigation process should be started as soon as the Police have given authorization to proceed. A report to CCYP must be forwarded within 30 days of notification, indicating steps taken so far. At completion of the investigation a report, including findings and actions taken (or decision not to act) will be sent to the CCYP. In some cases it may be appropriate to bring in an investigator from outside the church, to avoid conflicts of interest.

Step 5. When a report is made, the leadership will contact the insurer via GJ Insurance Consulting Pty Ltd. Ph 1300 384 799 or insure@gjic.com.au

C. Investigations

Hope in the Hills will appropriately investigate all allegations relating to an incident of abuse in accordance with its obligations and to the extent reasonably practicable.

In some circumstances, as described by the Reportable Conduct Scheme, it may be necessary for Hope in the Hills to conduct an investigation in addition to any investigation conducted by authorities (e.g. the police). Hope in the Hills may conduct an independent investigation into the allegation to the extent that it will not interfere with investigations by the Department or the police and will co-operate with the authorities as required. All people covered by this Child and Vulnerable People Protection Policy, Code of Conduct and Procedure must co-operate fully with any investigation by the Department, the police or Hope in the Hills.

In some circumstances, it may be appropriate for Hope in the Hills to engage a person (or persons) from outside Hope in the Hills to conduct an independent investigation in relation to allegations.³

Hope in the Hills will make every effort to keep any such investigation confidential; however, from time to time other employees, leaders, volunteers and contractors may need to be consulted in conjunction with the investigation (e.g. to provide witness statements).

³ It is important to have an arrangement in place. The investigator must be a person of experience and qualification, maybe with a role in the wider church association or sourced through GJIC Insurance.

D. Case management

In the event of a child disclosing an incident of abuse to someone they trust it is essential that it is dealt with swiftly, sensitively and professionally.

An investigation conducted by Hope in the Hills will be conducted in accordance with procedural fairness to protect the integrity of the investigation and the interests of all the participants involved in the investigation. Hope in the Hills will also handle the allegations in a confidential manner to the greatest extent possible. The outcome will depend on the findings of the investigation, but may be (but not limited to):

- withdrawal from current role;
- re-assignment to duties with no contact with children;
- increased supervision;
- disciplinary action, dismissal or criminal prosecution;
- deposition from office.

Section 2. CODE OF CONDUCT

1.1 Purpose

Hope in the Hills is a group of followers of Jesus Christ in Tecoma seeking to reflect the teachings of Christ and of the New Testament with integrity and humility. We accept that our faith is worked out and expressed in the quality of relationships we develop as a church community and all those with whom we interact in our daily lives. Jesus summarised God's expectation for the conduct of His people into one famous and succinct sentence: 'You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, soul, mind and strength, and your neighbours as yourself.' He reinforced this 'law of love' by adding, 'By this shall all men know that you are my disciples; you love one another!' Jesus also taught and demonstrated the importance of truth and honesty, of justice and mercy as essential to healthy relationships.

This Code of Conduct seeks to apply to the ministerial, or pastoral relationship those ethical standards that God expects of all people. People in various forms of recognised ministry are therefore expected to be examples and models of Christian faith and practice. It is the duty of any person in a ministry position not to use the influence or authority of their position for personal gain, whether that gain is financial or in terms of power, sexual gratification, or otherwise. This includes any action, verbal, written or electronic, physical or emotional that could be interpreted as emotional, sexual or spiritual abuse, and applies especially when working with children. We recognize the power differential between children and adults in ministry roles, and these guidelines seek to ensure that such a power is not used to harm children or any vulnerable person.

The adoption of this Code of Conduct and the related Procedural Documents for investigating breaches of the Code, reflects a deep desire for an open, accountable process that seeks to express justice, acceptance and compassion to all parties, rather than to protect the organization.

1.2 Our Commitment

Our commitment to expressing the love of Christ leads us to the view that all people should be able to live, work and learn in an environment that is free from abuse of any kind. Our commitment is to cultivate an environment and culture where a diversity of people, regardless of age, gender, race and culture can thrive and grow holistically. That is, we are committed to Hope in the Hills being a safe place for all people, with a special focus on the safety and wellbeing of children.

This Code of Conduct aims to detail the standards of conduct expected by staff (paid and voluntary) in the performance of their duties in working with children and to provide guidance in areas where there is a need to make personal and ethical decisions.

The Code of Conduct recognises and is aligned with all statutory and compliance requirements enshrined in State and Federal law. Hope in the Hills is committed to operating in accordance with the law in all its operations.

2. Specific Expectations to Protect Children from Abuse

All those who minister or work under the auspices of the church with children should be fully aware of the Child and Vulnerable People Protection Policy and Code of Conduct. Abusive behaviour towards children will not be tolerated. Any and all allegations will be investigated and reported if found to be substantially true.

2.2 DO NOT

- put a child or vulnerable person at risk of abuse (for example, by locking doors for an improper reason);
- speak to a child or vulnerable person in a way that is or could be construed by any observer as harsh, threatening, intimidating, shaming, derogatory, demeaning, or humiliating. Some examples are:
 - swearing or using inappropriate language in the presence of a child or vulnerable person;

- yelling at a child or vulnerable person, except in an emergency where the person's safety may be in danger;
 - dealing with a child or vulnerable person in anger; and
 - using hurtful sarcasm.
- discuss sexual activities with a child or vulnerable person, unless it is a specific job requirement, and the person is trained or qualified to discuss these matters (and it is part of an approved program or activity);
 - have private contact with a child outside of church activities without the knowledge and/or consent of Hope in the Hill's leadership or the child's parent or guardian;
 - have any online contact with a child (including by social media, email, instant messaging etc.) unless necessary and approved by the church and the child's parents/guardians (see communications policy).
 - use any personal communication channels/devices such as a personal email account or social media to communicate with a child without parental knowledge;
 - exchange personal contact details such as phone number, social networking sites or email addresses with a child (unless necessary and approved by the church and the child's parents/guardians as the agreed form of communication);
 - use, possess, or be under the influence of alcohol or illegal drugs while supervising a child.
 - provide or allow a child to consume alcohol or illegal drugs;
 - initiate unnecessary physical contact with a child or vulnerable person, or do things of a personal nature for them that they can do for themselves;
 - engage in rough physical games, hold, massage, kiss, cuddle or touch a child or vulnerable person in an inappropriate and or/culturally insensitive way;
 - engage in any sexual contact with a child or vulnerable person for any purpose;
 - take a child to your home or encourage meetings outside program activities (unless necessary and approved by the church and the child's parents/guardians);
 - be naked in the presence of a child or vulnerable person;
 - possess sexually explicit printed materials (magazines, cards, videos, films, clothing, etc.) in the presence of children or vulnerable people;
 - sleep in the same bed, sleeping bag, room or tent with children (unless you are their parent or legal guardian);

- treat any child or vulnerable person disrespectfully, unfairly, harshly or discouragingly based on their age, gender, race, culture, disability or any other differences;
- engage in any activity with a child or vulnerable person that is likely to emotionally harm them (e.g. watch a movie that is age or content inappropriate for a child);
- be alone with a child unnecessarily and for more than a short time, unless you are observable by another adult or it is unavoidable;
- develop a 'special' relationship with a specific child for the adult's own needs;
- show favouritism through the provision of gifts or inappropriate attention;
- photograph or video a child without the consent of the child and his/her parents or guardians;
- do anything in contravention of Hope in the Hill's policies, procedures or this Code.

Section 3. CHILD PROTECTION PROCEDURES & FORMS

3.1 Complaints and Allegations

Any person who believes a child is in immediate risk of abuse should telephone 000.

Certain professions are referred to as 'mandatory reporters'. This includes medical practitioners, nurses (including school nurses), members of the police force, counsellors and primary and secondary teachers, principals and church leadership. Penalties may be incurred by those named as 'mandatory reporters' if they fail to notify the Child Protection agency if they have reasonable grounds for a belief (not proof) that a child or young person is in need of protection, because they have suffered, or are likely to suffer significant harm, particularly physical or sexual abuse.

In addition to the mandatory reporting obligations above, any person who believes on reasonable grounds that a child is in need of protection from child abuse, should disclose that information to the Police or the Child Protection. In Victoria 'Failure to Report' is a crime.

3.2 When is a child in need of protection?

A child is in need of protection if any of the following grounds exist —

- a) the child has been abandoned by his or her parents;
- b) the child's parents are dead or incapacitated and there is no other suitable person willing and able to care for the child;
- c) the child has suffered, or is likely to suffer, significant harm as a result of physical injury and the child's parents have not protected, or are unlikely to protect, the child from harm of that type;
- d) the child has suffered, or is likely to suffer, significant harm as a result of sexual abuse and the child's parents have not protected, or are unlikely to protect, the child from harm of that type;
- e) the child has suffered, or is likely to suffer, emotional or psychological harm of such a kind that the child's emotional or intellectual development is, or is likely to be, significantly damaged and the child's parents have not protected, or are unlikely to protect, the child from harm of that type;
- f) the child's physical development or health has been, or is likely to be, significantly harmed and the child's parents have not provided, arranged or allowed the provision of, or are unlikely to provide, arrange or allow the provision of, basic care or effective medical, surgical or other remedial care.
- g) the child or vulnerable person has suffered, or is likely to suffer, bullying, image based abuse or similar harm of such a kind that the vulnerable person's emotional or intellectual development is, or is likely to be, significantly damaged;
- h) the child or vulnerable person has suffered, or is likely to suffer financial abuse or similar harm of such a kind that the vulnerable person's financial position is, or is likely to be, significantly damaged;

- i) the child or vulnerable person has suffered, or is likely to suffer spiritual abuse or similar harm of such a kind that the vulnerable person's emotional or intellectual development is, or is likely to be, significantly damaged.

3.3 Making and Managing an Allegation of Abuse

1. Where possible, any person (including a child or parent) making an allegation of child abuse should be encouraged to fill out a Complaints Form (Appendix 2) and give this to the Safe Church Coordinator. If they are not willing or able to fill out the Form, the SCC (or other leader) may take notes and fill out the form at a later time. The SCC will share the allegation with the senior leader of Hope in the Hills. A copy of this Form must be kept by the SCC. The complainant may keep the original. This is an essential record of the event.

If a child is concerned about their own safety or the safety of another person, the child may speak to the Safe Church Coordinator. The SCC will meet with the complainant, and hear the story, taking notes and seeking clarification, ensuring that the complainant feels listened to, understood and protected. (Some complaints may be able to be dealt with at this time, where there is misunderstanding, a lack of evidence of any abuse or no reportable act has been committed.)

The gathering of minimal information to make a reasonable decision is required. Any conversation with a child or young person needs to be recorded word for word if called upon for evidence. No question is to be 'leading' or introducing material the child or young person has not self-disclosed.

2. Any responsible adult should, if they have come to a reasonable belief that abuse of a child has happened, is or is likely to happen, follow the steps outlined in Reporting Procedure 1 (Appendix 1A) below. This includes senior leadership, or any concerned member of the church.

3. If the allegation is made against an employee, volunteer or worker in a church program or activity, then the head of entity must ALSO follow the steps outlined in Reporting Procedure 2: (Appendix 1B)

Appendix 1. Reporting Procedure 1

1. Clarifying, Recording Evidence and Specific Information about the Child

A Report is required if you believe, based on reasonable grounds, that a child has suffered, or is at risk of suffering, significant harm as a result of physical, sexual, emotional abuse or neglect.

The following information will be required when making a formal report to either the Police or Child Protection Services.

- The child's name, age (date of birth is preferable) and address
- The name, age and address of any known siblings
- Your reasons (observations or disclosures) for believing that the child is at risk of abuse, or actually being abused or neglected
- Your assessment of the immediate danger to the child
- Current whereabouts of the child or vulnerable person (if not in the home)
- Your description of injuries or 'sign' behaviours you have observed
- Any other information you may have of relevance to the investigation

2. Fill out a Complaints Report Form (Appendix 2)

N.B. You do not have to be given permission by church authorities to make such a report. Your identity as notifier will remain confidential unless you choose to inform the child or family.

3. Reporting. Making a report is to lay a serious allegation of a criminal offence against another person, so clarify your perceptions carefully before reporting.

You can make your report to:

- Child Protection Officer/ChurchSafe Coordinator, using a Complaint Form. Attach your notes to the form, keeping a copy. Please note, the CPO will inform the senior leadership of the church of your report, and they will act in accordance to law. You may still make an independent report to:
- The Police. (Ring 13 14 44) The police are the most appropriate first responders if the report is regarding abuse that is immediate, criminal or endangering the child either on church premises or in another location. If a Child is in immediate danger call 000.
- Child Protection Services
Victoria: (1300 655 795 BH, or 13 12 78 AH) is a statutory service provided by DFFH (Department Family Fairness and Housing) to protect children and young people at risk of harm and to work with families to ensure these risks are mitigated.

APPENDIX 6 Definitions of Abuse against Children

Child abuse includes:

Any act committed against a child involving

- a. a sexual offence; or
- b. an offence under section 498(2) of the Crimes Act 1958 (grooming); and
- c. the infliction, on a child, of-
 - i. physical violence; or
 - ii. serious emotional or psychological harm; and
- d. serious neglect of a child.

“Child” means a person under the age of 18 years unless otherwise stated under the law applicable to the child. Collective term for “child” is “children”.

There are five common types of abuse: physical, sexual, emotional, neglect and racial/cultural

1. Physical Abuse

Physical abuse is any non-accidental physical injury resulting from practices such as:

- Hitting, punching, kicking, beating (marks from belt buckles, fingers).
- Shaking (particularly babies).
- Burning (irons, cigarettes), biting, pulling out hair.
- Alcohol or other drug administration.
- Fractured bones – especially in young children.
- Strangulation.
- Unexplained or hidden injuries.

2. Sexual Abuse, including ‘grooming’

Sexual abuse is any sexual act or threat to perform such upon another person. It occurs when a person uses their power and authority to take advantage of another’s trust to involve them in sexual activity. It does not necessarily involve genital contact but is any act which erodes the sexual boundary between two persons. It may appear consensual, but the validity of consent is negated by the power differential.

Sexual grooming is a pattern of behaviour aimed at engaging a child, as a precursor to sexual abuse. Examples include inappropriate special time with the child, inappropriately giving gifts, ‘accidental touching’, allowing the child to sit on lap, having secrets. In isolation, such behaviours may not indicate the risk of abuse occurring, but if there is a pattern of behaviour occurring, it may indicate grooming. Grooming behaviours often mimic the kind of relationship-developing strategies that Christian ministries use for the benefit and wellbeing of children, that is, gaining the trust of the child, demonstrating care and concern, spending time, visiting in the home, finding out about family, friends and hobbies. However, grooming to involve a child in sexual activities for the personal gratification of an adult is a crime. The grooming process often starts with the person ‘grooming’ the organization or church by building trust. Then progressively the perpetrator starts to target families before starting to groom the child.

3. Emotional or Psychological Abuse

Emotional abuse is the chronic attitude or behaviour of one person, which is directed at another person, or the creation of an emotional environment which erodes a child's development, self-esteem and social confidence over time. Behaviours may include: devaluing, ignoring, rejecting, corrupting, isolating, terrorising or chronic and extreme domestic violence in the child's presence.

4. Neglect

Neglect is characterised by the failure to provide for the child's basic needs. It includes any serious omission or commission which jeopardises or impairs a person's development. Examples include the failure to provide food, shelter, healthcare, adequate hygiene or schooling for a child.

5. Bullying and cyber-bullying

Bullying can be defined as repeated, unreasonable, unwanted behaviour conducted by an individual or group against another person, which has a negative impact on health and wellbeing. This includes aggression, verbal, emotional/psychological or physical acts or the use of social media or other forms of communication that intimidates, humiliates or threatens. It often involves an abuse of a power differential between the bully and the victim.

Cyber-bullying occurs when a person uses any form of telecommunication to sexually groom, bully, suggest an inappropriate relationship be formed, or engage a child in sexual language or behaviours. The explosion of electronic communications (Facebook and other social media sites, text-messaging, internet chat rooms etc.) has seen a sharp increase in cyber-bullying. Appendix 11 contains Hope in the Hill's electronic communication policy.

6. Other abuse

We recognise that abuse can also take many other forms, and we commit to treating all children and young people with respect, fairness, compassion and encouragement, regardless of any differences.

APPENDIX 11 ELECTRONIC COMMUNICATIONS

Aim

This Policy seeks to outline guidelines and good practice for youth leaders in using electronic communication tools in a safe and encouraging way for those under the church's care.

ONLINE AND SMART PHONE USAGE GUIDELINES

FOR PEOPLE IN MINISTRY ROLES

The following guidelines are to assist all people who work with young people and all people who are in positions of authority within the CRCA. Where the phrase "young person" or "young people" is used it is always defined as a person or people under 18 years of age. This advice provides useful general guidance in regard to online and smart phone communication (i.e. all electronic communication). In cases where ministry outcomes are in part effected through the use of social media then it is recommended that particular practice guidelines pertaining to that ministry are developed and clearly communicated to the leaders. The SCU is available for assistance in establishing such particular guidelines.

SAFE CHURCH

The Safe Church Code of Conduct states that: "This Code of Conduct seeks to apply to the ministerial, or pastoral relationship those ethical standards that God expects of all people. People in various forms of recognised ministry are therefore expected to be examples and models of Christian faith and practice. It is the duty of any person in a ministry position not to use the influence or authority of their position for personal gain, whether that gain is financial or in terms of power, sexual gratification, or otherwise. This includes any action, verbal, written or electronic, physical or emotional that could be interpreted as emotional, sexual or spiritual abuse, and applies especially when working with children. We recognize the power differential between children and adults in ministry roles, and these guidelines seek to ensure that such a power is not used to harm children or any vulnerable person." This point has application to your use of all electronic communications as a person of authority or person working with young people in the CRCA.

BASIC PRINCIPLES

There are three basic principles when having any type of conversation with a young person:

1. Remember God is listening:
 - The 'God test' – is this conversation honouring God?
 - The 'parent test' – if this young person's parents were listening/reading this, would they feel comfortable with this conversation?
2. Seek transparency in conversations with young people and keep 1-on-1 conversations to a minimum. Ask yourself whether this message/conversation could take place in a group chat/online space or if it can wait until the next time you will see them.

3. Don't get in deeper than you can handle – if issues arise that are greater than your ability or in an area of your weakness refer the young person to others who are better equipped to deal with it. When in doubt, ask for help

Online and smart phone communications can create an intense, relational situation because of the ease of access, the comfort of distance and its unobserved nature. A relationship can be developed far more quickly than was possible before online communication was common. Therefore, the church considers talking with young people online and via smart phone to be the same as talking to them face to face. The same code of conduct for leaders interacting with young people face to face applies to all types of online and smart phone communication.

SPECIFIC CONDUCT GUIDELINES:

FACEBOOK/TWITTER/INSTAGRAM/BLOGS/WEBSITES

If your church ministry or organisation establishes any of the above social media platforms as a method of communication within the group this is the best place for leaders to converse with members of the group as all conversations may be held in public. Ensure there is no option for private conversations to take place on this facility.

Best practice is for leaders not to be individual friends on social media with young people within the church or organisation. This is due to the risks inherent in private relationships which may develop over social media. These risks affect both young people and leaders.

However it is recognised that leaders may be individual friends on social media with young people where the relationship is pre-existing or established via other connections, for example they may be related or may have formed the friendship via knowing each other external to the leader/group member relationship. In circumstances where leaders are individual friends with young people on social media leaders are at all times to adhere to the basic principles above.

SMS TEXT MESSAGING/EMAILS

Best practice is to only use the above methods of communication as a “one-way” avenue for communicating within the group. Create a culture of using group messaging as much as possible, and having more personal conversations face-to-face in a place where you are observable by others. From time to time, a leader might need to contact a child directly to communicate information or organise something for an upcoming program. A child may also reach out directly to a leader with a question or to share a concern such as a prayer request. Leaders should avoid engaging in ongoing conversation and interact in a way that upholds the Code of Conduct while showing pastoral care to the child. The basic principles above should also be used to guide the interaction. When in doubt, the leader can include another leader, child or parent in the conversation, or simply reply to let them know you will speak with them about it the next time you see them. Give parents the option of always being copied in on any communication from the ministry or organisation leaders and add those parents to the contacts list. When sending group emails always remember to send any email to yourself first and put all contacts into the blind copy (BCC) field to ensure you do not distribute email addresses without permission. Always copy in fellow leaders. Follow the same privacy protocols if using SMS texts to do mass communication within the group.

PHONE/SKYPE/ZOOM/FACETIME/MESSAGING APPS/IN-GAME MESSAGING

Seek to avoid where possible individual contact with young people via online and smart phone communication. Aim to have most of communication to young people via group communication. Should a need arise to use phone/Skype/FaceTime/Zoom you should be accountable – always get parental permission before you talk with a young person over the phone and tell a co-leader that you are conversing with a young person by phone. If using Skype, Zoom or FaceTime again always get parental permission before you talk with a young person using this facility. Ensure both you and the young person are using this form of communication in an open area where people can see you or there are others present, e.g. not alone in your room.

In the case where an inappropriate message or image is sent to a leader by a child or a person under pastoral care/leadership via any online or smart phone communication, whether publicly or privately, the leader should not reply under any circumstances. Do not delete the image or message. The leader must immediately notify the ministry or organisation leader that this has occurred. The ministry or organisation leader may then contact the SCU for advice on how to proceed.

CYBER BULLYING AND IMAGE BASED ABUSE

Sadly, there is an increase in the prevalence of cyber bullying and image based abuse targeting both adults and children in Australia, mostly via social media. Both State and Federal parliaments have begun to address this societal problem through legislation and the provision of assistance to Australians via the Office of e-safety – www.esafety.gov.au If you become aware of cyber bullying or image based abuse within the church context visit www.esafety.gov.au and contact SCU for assistance and reporting.

It is recommended that you follow our transport policy even for friends and family as these guidelines provide protection for both the Team Member and the Participant. However, we do understand that this situation arises at times amongst close friends and relatives. If you choose to transport family and friends, you are doing so against our transport policy and do so at your own risk, a few things you should consider are:

- Plan your trip not to be alone with a child under 18, try to take a sibling or friend with you.

- For your protection never offer a lift, if asked to transport a child, take someone with you or try to make alternate arrangements.
- If you do transport family or friends always make personal contact with the parent/guardian on arrival.
- For your protection take and keep a personal note of the trip, including the specific times of arrival and departure, and any relevant issues or topics of discussion.
- If you are a young person transporting your personal friends, always ensure that their parent is aware that you are transporting them.
